

Revd. Dr. al-Bayyādī

Presbyterian pastor, chairman of the Protestant Community Council in Egypt

"The problems between people that brought the tension are usually not given the attention needed to resolve the issues, which is compounded by people on both sides of the conflict exaggerating and soliciting support for their side. The media then receives a one-sided view of the conflict without an overall picture of what started the conflict in the beginning. The reality is that Egyptian and foreign media rarely investigate the claims of those telling the story resulting in inaccurate and nonobjective reporting and thereby increased tensions. This deficit in media reporting is overcome by the work of AWR."